Location

The Sri Durgaparameshwari Temple is located in Agalpady, near Badiadka (Peradala) in the Kasaragod district of Kerala, India. This region lies in the northernmost part of Kerala, culturally closely knit with the Tulu Nadu region.

How to Get There

- By Road: Agalpady is located about 22 km from Kasaragod town and roughly 6 km from Badiadka. Local buses, private taxis, and auto-rickshaws are readily available from both Kasaragod and Badiadka.
- By Rail: The nearest major railway station is Kasaragod (KGQ), well-connected to major cities in Kerala and Karnataka (like Mangaluru).
- By Air: The closest airport is Mangaluru International Airport (IXE) in Karnataka, located approximately 65 km away from the temple.

Speciality of This Temple

This ancient temple is highly revered as one of the prominent Durga shrines in the Kasaragod region. A unique spiritual feature of this temple is its deep connection with nature and the traditional agrarian community of the area. It serves as a major cultural and spiritual hub for the local Tulu and Kannada-speaking populations.

History and Legends

The temple is believed to be centuries old, dating back to antiquity. According to local lore, the idol of the Goddess was consecrated by an ancient sage who performed intense penance at this serene location. The region around Badiadka was historically under the administration of the local chieftains and the Ikkeri Nayakas, who patronized the temple. The deity is regarded as a powerful protectress who safeguards the surrounding villages from epidemics and agricultural distress.

Architecture

The temple exhibits the traditional Kerala-style architectural grandeur blended with coastal Karnataka influences. Key elements include:

- A traditional Chuttambalam (outer structure enclosing the inner sanctum).
- A Sri Kovil (sanctum sanctorum) built with laterite stone and wood carvings, topped with a copper-plated roof.
- A peaceful temple tank (Pushkarini) used for ritualistic purposes.

Main Deity and Subdeities

- Main Deity: Goddess Durgaparameshwari, worshipped here in a benevolent yet powerful form, radiating grace and protection.
- Subdeities (Upadevatas): The temple complex houses shrines for Lord Ganesha, Lord Shasta (Ayyappa), and various Daivas (guardian spirits) typical of the Tulu Nadu tradition, such as Raktheshwari and Guliga.

Daily Rituals and Poojas (Standard Charges)

The temple follows strict Vedic and Tantric Agamic rituals.

- Daily Schedule: The temple generally opens early in the morning for Nirmalya Darshanam, followed by Usha Pooja, Madhyahna Pooja (noon), and closes after the Athazha Pooja (night).
- Common Offerings: Standard daily poojas include Archana, Kunkumarchana, Panchamrutha Abhisheka, and Maha Pooja.

Note on Charges: Basic ritual charges range from ₹20 to ₹250 for standard Archanas and Sevas. For extensive daily family sevas or Prasada Bhojana sponsorships, rates vary. Because temple committees periodically revise exact tariffs, it is best to verify current rates directly at the temple counter.

Special Poojas (Standard Charges)

Special spiritual offerings can be booked by devotees for specific intentions:

- Chandika Homa: A major fire ritual performed for prosperity and removal of obstacles. (Charges generally range from ₹5,000 to ₹15,000 depending on the scale and material requirements).
- Kartika Deepotsava / Lakshadeepotsava: Mass lamp lighting during the auspicious month of Kartika.
- Maha Rangapooja: A grand decorative offering to the Goddess.

Festivals Celebrated

- Annual Festival (Vrishchika Mahotsava): Celebrated with immense grandeur, featuring traditional percussion music (Chenda Melam), cultural programs, and grand processions.
- Navaratri: A nine-day festival dedicated entirely to the various forms of the Goddess, drawing thousands of devotees for special dynamic alankaras.
- Vishu / New Year: Marked by the auspicious Vishu Kani viewing in April.

Facilities Available for Devotees

- Annadanam: The temple frequently serves Prasada Bhojana (mid-day meals) to devotees, especially on Fridays and festive occasions.
- Restrooms & Amenities: Basic clean drinking water and restroom facilities are available within the temple perimeter.
- Accommodation: The temple has limited direct guest house facilities. Devotees generally prefer staying in Kasaragod town or nearby pilgrimage guest houses.

Do's and Don'ts

- Dress Code: Traditional attire is highly encouraged. Men are expected to wear dhotis/veshtis (and are generally required to remove shirts before entering the inner courtyard), and women are expected to wear sarees, salwar kameez, or traditional long skirts.
- Photography: Photography and video recording inside the Sri Kovil (sanctum sanctorum) are strictly prohibited.
- Conduct: Maintain silence and sanctity within the premises. Follow queue discipline during heavy festival rushes.

Nearby Temples

- Madhur Srimad Anantheshwara Vinayaka Temple: Located around 14 km away, this historic temple is famous for its unique three-tiered elephant-back structured architecture and the potent deity of Lord Ganesha.
- Sri Gopalakrishna Temple, Kumbla: An ancient temple dedicated to Lord Krishna, located nearby.
- Ananthapura Lake Temple: Located roughly 18 km away, this is the only lake temple in Kerala and is famously known as the original seat of Ananthapadmanabha.

Nearby Hotels

For comfortable stays, accommodation is best sought in Kasaragod Town (approx. 22 km away):

- Hotel City Tower (Kasaragod)
- Nalanda Resorts (Nileshwar/Kasaragod region)
- Uday Samudra / Local Boarding Houses near the national highway junctions.

- For quick dining, local vegetarian restaurants in Badiadka town offer traditional South Indian and Tuluva cuisine.

Nearby Tourist Spots

- Bekal Fort: Located about 36 km away, this is the largest and best-preserved fort in Kerala, offering breathtaking views of the Arabian Sea.
- Bekal Beach and Park: A beautifully maintained beach adjacent to the fort, ideal for evening walks.
- Chandragiri Fort: A 17th-century fort overlooking the Chandragiri River, offering excellent sunset views.

Any Other Info

The serene, rural backdrop of Agalpady provides an incredibly peaceful atmosphere for spiritual contemplation, away from the typical bustle of city shrines. Visiting during the winter months (November to February) is ideal, as the weather is pleasant and coincides with the major temple festival seasons and local Theyyam performances in the region.

How to Get There

- By Road: Well-connected by road from Kasaragod (about 45-60 minutes). Buses or taxis from Kasaragod town or Badiadka. Nearest major road is the Kasaragod-Mangalore highway.
- By Rail: Kasaragod Railway Station (main) or nearby stations like Kanhangad. From the station, take a bus/taxi/auto (around 20-25 km).
- By Air: Mangalore International Airport (IXE) is the closest (about 50-60 km, ~1.5 hours drive). Kannur Airport is farther.
- Local transport: Autos, taxis, or private vehicles are common. Google Maps shows the location as Agalpady, Kumbadaje, Marpanadka, Kerala 671551.

Speciality of This Temple

This is a Shakti (Devi) temple primarily dedicated to Goddess Durga in a fierce yet protective form, also worshipped as Annapurneshwari (provider of food/nourishment). It is known for its serene, traditional Malabar-style atmosphere and attracts devotees seeking protection, prosperity, and relief from obstacles.
Utsava Bali (procession with the deity) and Vyaghrachamundi (tiger-form Chamundi) rituals are notable.

History and Legends

Detailed public information on ancient history or specific Sthala Purana is limited in online sources.
Like many Kerala Devi temples, it is believed to be centuries old and associated with local traditions of Shakti worship.
The temple follows typical Kerala temple customs.
Legends often link such Durga temples to the goddess's victory over demons or local protective folklore, but no widely documented unique legend was found in major sources.
It is a living temple with active community involvement.

Architecture

Typical Kerala-Malabar style: sloping roofs, wooden elements, and laterite stone construction common in the region.
A prominent flag post (Dhwaja Sthambha) is an important feature.
The temple has a traditional sanctum and surrounding structures suited for rituals and processions.

Main Deity and Sub-Deities

- Main Deity: Goddess Sri Durgaparameshwari (form of Shakti/Durga, also revered as Annapurneshwari).

- Associated: Lord Shiva worshipped as Gadhadhari (wielder of the mace/club). Other sub-deities or associated shrines may include typical accompaniments in Devi temples (e.g., Ganesha, guardians), though specifics are not extensively listed.

Daily Rituals and Poojas and Their Charges

The temple opens early (around 5:00 AM) and has multiple pooja sessions.

Typical timings include:

- Morning poojas ~7:30 AM
- Afternoon ~12:30 PM
- Evening ~7:45 PM
- Closes late (around 8-9 PM or later on some days).

Specific charges for daily poojas (e.g., Archana, Abhishekam, etc.) are not uniformly listed online and vary; devotees usually inquire on-site or contact the temple (+91 85470 84250 mentioned in some sources).

Common offerings include lighting lamps, flowers, and basic archana.

Special Poojas and Their Charges

Details on priced special poojas are not readily available in public sources.

Common special rituals in such temples include:

- Bali Utsava/processions
- Specific Devi poojas
- Annadanam (free or sponsored meals)

Contact the temple administration for current rates, as they change and are often nominal or donation-based.

Festivals Celebrated

- Major Devi festivals like Navaratri (grand celebrations).
- Vyaghrachamundi Nemotsava (6th day, tiger-form Chamundi festival with processions).
- Utsava Bali and other annual temple festivals (typically involving processions blessing the area).
- Other occasions: Karthika, local fairs, etc.

Facilities Available for Devotees

- Basic amenities: Drinking water, pooja item shops, restrooms.

- Accommodation: Limited or none directly at the temple (typical for smaller rural temples).
Devotees usually stay in Kasaragod town or nearby hotels. Some community halls or nearby options may exist for large groups—confirm directly.
- Annadanam (meals) may be available on certain days/festivals.

Do's and Don'ts

- Follow standard Kerala temple etiquette: Remove footwear outside, dress modestly (avoid revealing clothes), maintain silence in the sanctum.

- Men: Traditional dhoti or pants; women: saree/salwar.
- No photography inside the sanctum (common rule).
- Respect customs during poojas and festivals.
- Avoid non-vegetarian food/alcohol near premises.

ℹ️ Any Other Information

- The temple has a strong community character, rooted in the Karhade Brahmin tradition that arrived from Maharashtra some 600 years ago, making it culturally distinct even among Kasaragod temples.
- It is widely regarded as one of the best temples in Kasaragod — very calm, cool, and spiritually uplifting. [Worldorgs]

(https://in.worldorgs.com/catalog/marpanadka/hindu-temple/agalpady-shri-durgaparameshwari-temple-kasaragod)

- The Annadanam (free meal) service makes this temple particularly dear to devotees from all walks of life.
- The best time to visit is during the Magha festival* (January–February) or Navaratri (September–October) for the full festive experience.
- The region around Badiadka is lush with rubber, areca nut, and coconut plantations, making the journey itself scenic and relaxing.

For precise pooja charges, accommodation bookings, and current timings, it is recommended to contact the temple office directly before your visit.
